| 15 | Learnii | ng and teaching strategy |
| | of hum designe challen work in sector. engage Teachin | ng in this course is a holistic process of personal development, covering inter-relating aspects than personality, the intellectual, spiritual, practical and relational. Learning opportunities are ted to encourage independent, critical thinking and self-motivated learning and to both age and encourage students' theological and social commitments. Students are equipped for in various forms of Christian ministry/service and comparable activities outside the Christian A key feature of the course is that learning takes place through the combination of ement in and reflection on practice, thus creating links between theory and practice. |
| | engage | ement in teaching activities; the appropriate use of technology in teaching; the provision of ng Support to students with Specific Learning Difficulties. |

The College's approach to these areas is set out in its Learning, Teaching and Assessment Framework which can be accessed via the Programme Handbook.

The programme is typically taken full-time, but part-time study is also permitted, subject to management issues.

Studies may be in Campus-Based or Placement-Based modes. Campus-Based mode follows a traditional pattern of higher education with students attending classes on most days of the week through two semesters. Placement-Based (Christchurch) mode requires students to attend classes both on one day per week through the semesters and also for three intensive, week-long study blocks through the year. Placement-Based (South West and Midlands) modes require students to attend the three intensive week-long study blocks at Christchurch and the appropriate study blocks at their Regional Centre, supported by smaller group tutorials in the local area. In this way, students studying in the different modes have exactly the same number of contact hours in all modules, with one exception in the practice-based modules at level 4.

The following table shows how the modules' Learning Outcomes contribute to supporting students to achieve the programme's Learning Outcomes (see section 14 above).

17 Assessment strategy

The course's assessment tasks are aligned with programme and modular learning outcomes and teaching activities, relevant to the needs of students, fair as opportunities to demonstrate learning achievements, and appropriate to module ratings. The course offers a diverse range of assessment tasks. For further details see the College's Learning, Teaching and Assessment Framework, which is accessible through the Programme Handbook.

Learning outcomes at module level are normally the subject of summative assessment.

| | Students should be able to undertake placements some of which are likely to involve commitment to and participation in the activities and community of churches which hold to a traditional understanding of Christianity. |

| 21 | Career and employability opportunities |
| | Building experience of practice is central to the learning philosophy of the programme (see section 15). A number of modules involve current practitioners in their teaching, creating opportunities for the students to network with future employers. Students also engage in placements throughout their studies and gain increasing experience in quantity and quality. These opportunities not only strengthen the learning experience but equip students to become competent professionals in their chosen fields and enhance their ability to secure employment in the areas of their interests. |
| 22 | Management of Quality and Standards |
| | The College follows the approach to the management of quality and standards as set out by the University of Gloucestershire, which validates all the College's Higher Education programmes. The University's Quality Assurance Handbook, Academic Regulations for Taught Provision, Assessment Principles and Procedures, and associated sources of advice are all applied to the College's provision. All regulations, policies and procedures are aligned with QAA reference points. The College's own Quality Manual defines how these are implemented within the programme. |
| | Students are able to comment on their modules and courses in various ways including module evaluations and Course Committees. Quality assurance is undertaken as close as possible to the point of delivery. There is a route from the module level to Course Committees and through to the Academic Board and Senior Management Team so that issues can be addressed and delivery enhanced in the appropriate arena. |
| | Externality is guaranteed via external examiner reports which allow the College and the University to make judgements on the quality and standards of its provision. The College also benefits from the input of externals in University approval and review procedures. In addition a Professional Advisory Group of external employers and practitioners advises the College on all aspects of the delivery of the programme. |
| 23 | Support for Students and for Student Learning |
| | As a small college with a community feel, students have relatively ready access to teaching and support staff in a variety of ways. For Christchurch students there are weekly, timetabled groups, which all students attend, to build community and deal with issues that may arise. For students at other centres there are similar groups that meet fortnightly plus the benefit of regular residential living and ability to contact tutors and support electronically. Students are expected to meet with tutors for half an hour twice a term to discuss academic, developmental, future employment or other issues that they may be facing. The student handbook and other course information is available on the College's Virtual Learning Environment (VLE). The Student Council is well supported by the College in its aims of maintaining community and offering a level of pastoral support to all students. |
| | The College has a Disability Officer who takes particular responsibility for relevant issues. |
| | The Learning Assistance Department runs an effective system of helping students with learning disabilities to successfully manage their studies through providing additional support where necessary. |

A confidential one-to-one service provides information, support and advice. The team has professionally qualified staff who will help students identify their needs through screenings or assessments including full dyslexia assessments. Guidance and assistance is also available regarding applications for the Disabled Student Allowance (DSA). Support for students is ongoing and available throughout their College career.

The College's library delivers effective, efficient and learner-focussed services in a number of ways:

- traditional academic library resources (over 44,000 print books at Christchurch, 1,600 at the Midlands branch and 2,200 at the South West branch), 60 current print journals and various back runs);
- over 10,000 e-books via the VLE
- over 4,000 full text e-journals via the VLE
- 32 study spaces in a modern, light and airy environment at Christchurch;
- access to expert help in locating and using learning resources (individually and through regular information skills classes);
- additional borrowing capacity through the Association of British Theological and Philosophical Libraries, British Library on Demand service, COPAC and ProQuest dissertations and theses.
